PEACOCK FEATHERS AND PRODUCTS FROM LAMPLIGHT FEATHER

Lamplight Feather started selling both long peacock eye tail feathers and peacock feather earrings back in 1973. These feathers were the "feather" in the companies original name: Lamplight Fly & Feather when feather sales tended to be a supplementary product to our main business of tying fishing flies for fresh and salt water anglers.

Peacock feathers are still available for sale on line from Lamplight Feather but now in a much wider variety of styles and types. These include full length, natural peacock eye tail feathers, natural peacock swords, and combos of both in our popular decorator mixes. Both the tail feathers and the swords are available as short stalk as well.

Stem dyed and bleached and dyed peacock eye tail feathers and swords are available in natural tan, red, black, gold, purple, burgundy, fuchsia, orange, turquoise, lime, green, blue, pink, yellow and other popular colors. We stock both long stalk and short stalk versions.

Natural white peacock feathers are rare and hard to find but available seasonally from Lamplight after the summer molt. They are very much in demand for wedding decoration. Call well ahead of your event to check on availability.

The dramatically marked wing quills are attractive hat feathers while the green and blue plumage are among our most popular craft feathers. Feather pads are also popular in millinery design. Peacock eye feathers and flues (herl) are used in bias tape sewn feather trim and feather fringe applications.

To find out more about Peafowl (pavo cristatus), their native range, habitat and some unique qualities of their feathers, check our About Peacocks and Peacock Feathers info page.

from Miss Selfridge -
I have searched high
and low for this bleedin shirt over the last few weeks. It's been out of stock at Miss Selfridge and
was even in the sale
there and I ...
